

All
of Us
RESEARCH PROGRAM

It's our differences that make all the difference.

The All of Us Research Program's mission is to speed up health research breakthroughs.

People from all walks of life will share their health information. Health data from diverse people will help fill gaps in knowledge about why people get sick or stay healthy. The data could help researchers develop new and better treatments that benefit all of us.

joinallofus.org/connect

50%+
of All of Us
participants are
of racial and ethnic minorities

80%+
of All of Us
participants are
under-represented
in biomedical
research

